SEARCY HIGH SCHOOL

CAVALIER

FOREWORD

Following an established tradition, the senior class has compiled this, the 1947 edition of the CAVALIER.

Like other classes, we have endeavored to make this annual one that may be treasured by all — one that typically represents the outstanding events of the year.

We have tried, to some degree, to preserve those cherished memories that come with school days.

SCHOOL BUILDING

ALMA MATER

Hail to Alma Mater, Hail!

Hail! Hail! to the red and black,
Cheer for Searcy High School, cheer,
Where fine spirit does not lack.

Hail to memories so dear,
Fondly do we now look back.
Searcy High, march on, march on,
Searcy High, march on.

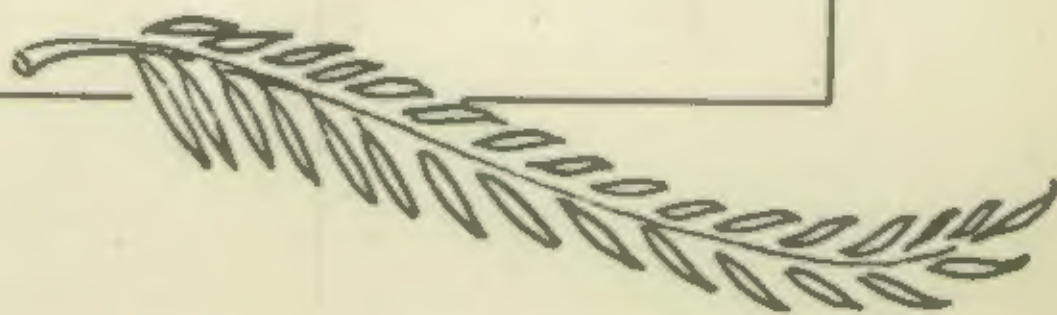

DEDICATION

To Charles R. Hart, we the senior class dedicate this annual.

Charles joined our class when we entered the seventh grade and immediately won our friendship and admiration. His ready smile and quiet acceptance of his long suffering was indicative of his strength of character.

Our class, our school and our town mourn the loss of one whose sterling qualities will live as an inspiration.

It is to his fond memory that we offer this publication as a lasting memorial.

Thirty girls and twenty-nine boys received their diplomas Friday, May 23, having thus completed their records as leaders.

Four of its members returned from the Armed Forces to graduate.

Class of '47 has been very active. President, vice president, secretary and treasurer of the student body, presidents of F. H. A., National Honor Society, Choir, Masque and Gavel, Trespans, Quill and Scroll, Dramatics Club, Lonettes came from this group.

Contributing much to the success of the athletic program, it furnished co-captains of the football team and eleven lettermen. Four members were placed on the first string in basketball and five on the second.

Editor and seven members of the LION staff were among these students.

Heading their accomplishments is the production of the senior play, 'Junior Miss' and the publication of their year book.

CLASS POEM

Some classes are forgotten
But when this one gets to Heaven;
People will still remember
The class of '47.

They will not forget Jane Langford
Who sold annuals by the score;
Her price she said was $2.00 now,
When you get it, $1.50 more!

The boy who thrilled the girls
With a voice that made them swoon
Is one you knew as Mullens
We called him "Singing Moon."

Dorothy and Bob were engaged then;
Janie and Bill soon would be;
Ora Delle and Gene were steadies;
Gordon said—"Hmm—No hope for me!"

Earl Dee and Darol drove their cars;
Both were as cute as they could be;
But if there was a girl while driving,
They would park right up in a tree.

When we couldn't get our lessons
And we needed them a certain day,
There was a genius to help us;
Her name was Frances Mae.

Two girls always seen together
Were Jackie and Hazel Lee—
Another duet of the opposite sex
Was "Red" Hendrix and Q. C.

Two students in the senior class,
Neither larger than a bean,
We couldn't tell them apart;
But their names were Dale and Dean.

Dorothy Collins played a saxophone
Marion Price a clarinet—
Eversole and Sullivan played drums
They should have formed a quartet.

Martha dragged you out of class
And said "Now write a feature!"
We found out from Fortune
The editor is a busy creature.

The largest girls in the senior class—
Beck, Covey and Barger—
Took a Charles Atlas course one day—
Looking closely—their muscles were larger.

Laverne Benton and Anna Mae Adams
Betty Saxon and Billie Jo Lane
Studied their lessons hard each day
And logic proved them sane.

Sue and Gloria were the quiet type,
Who seldom said a word.
Wyatt, Humble, Gamblin and Falk
Were seen—but seldom heard!

We had some heroes in our class—
Armitage, Musick and Hart—
In football games and basketball
They really did their part.

There were two Bobbie Jeans in this group
And both were lots of fun—
From Searcy came Bobbie Jean Gentry
From Walker came Bobbie Jean Dunn.

Brains and beauty are nice to have.
When one combines the two—
Clotene had both of these
She was one of the very few.

Penny's claimed two of our seniors
Annette Williams and Norma Jean;
Bettye Miller worked at Smith's Shoe Store;
Major Pickens made Yamell's ice cream.

Bobby Miller came back from the Navy
And worked at Darden's cleaners;
He was often seen with Wilson
Who was noted for misdemeanors.

Nelson was president of the student body
And manager of the football team;
Catherine was "Fluffy" in "Junior Miss"
And really was a cream.

Bobbie Kate was telephone operator
Treddie Lammers liked home ec.;
We can't forget that Ronney gal
In whose car people risked their neck.

Caldwell and his clarinet
Ellenburg and basketball.
Glen and Holliman were typists;
Homard always skipped study hall.

And there was our faithful sponsor;
Dellinger was her name;
She often would scold us;
We believe she liked us just the same.

And there you have the seniors;
We're glad we made it, you know;
But if we told you truthfully,
We hesitated to go.

CLASS HISTORY

When this the graduating class of 1947, first began its long journey up the road of knowledge, only thirteen of its present members started together. They were Jacke Canada, Martha Jane Fortune, Ora Dee Huffstutler, Catherine James, Hazelle Martin, Marian Price, Dorothy Sanders, Betty Armitage, Earl Dee Baker, Darol Bell, Walter Caldwell, Wilson Grissom and Nelson James. Under the patient direction of Mrs. Wilson, we earned our ABC's and the ability to get along with fifteen, twenty other students.

After many struggles and hardships, we passed into the second grade. Here we lost Martha Jane Fortune and Catherine James, but to compensate for these, Annette Williams joined our happy group. Miss Sidney Deener introduced us to many new problems of school life, such as staying in after school, or at recess and the ordeal of report cards.

Mrs. Chamblin was our third grade teacher, and now we could look down on the first graders as the smaller children. A very disappointing thing happened to us this year. Mr. Aren moved his bakery which had been only a half block from school. With two new members, Jane Langford and Norma Jean Yearby, we finished the year successfully.

Our fourth year we sailed into grammar school in good spirits. Mrs. Chamblin went with us, and here we met one of our most difficult tasks, the learning of the multiplication tables.

Mrs. Walker, principal of grammar school, taught us our fifth year. It was here that we discovered how helpful arithmetic answer books could be but how terrible it was to be found using one.

Then we went upstairs in the sixth grade and were divided into two classes. One class was under the direction of Miss Key, and the other under the direction of Miss Golden. We added to our group Charles Hart, Betty Miller and A. J. Sullivan.

The first morning of school, our seventh year found us standing out in front of the new high school, waiting for Mr. Mason to open the doors. The upper classmen blamed us for everything from the violation of traffic rules to the hats. No any marks found on the spotlessly clean walls and chairs. We added Dorothy Collins, Betty Covey, Martha Jane Fortune, Jimmy Hart, Annide Barquer, Q. C. Grant, and Rodney Ramey. We learned to get from a room downstairs to a room upstairs in three minutes, and also to work the combination locks on our lockers in those three minutes.

With much confidence we entered the eighth grade. The juniors and seniors were extremely nice to us this year—at least twice—during the student body election and the Who's Who contest. We stumbled through this year under the direction of Miss Ellis and Mrs. Hicks without too much trouble except for the addition of Billy Hendrix and Catherine James.

CLASS HISTORY

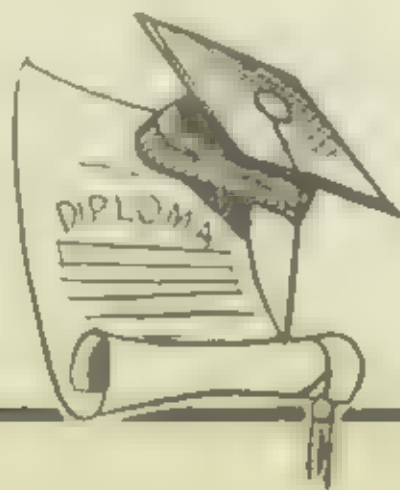

Then came our junior graduation in the ninth grade with Miss Forrest as our sponsor. We were really getting into the swing of things by this time, and for support we added Laverne Benton, Sue Christian, Bobbie Jean Dunn, Bessie Lee Huber, Billie Jo Lane, Gene Hightower and Gordon Quattlebaum. During the last two weeks of school everyone was excited and wondered if he would graduate or get a bank diploma. Dorothy Jean Shaw was our valedictorian and Cla Dele Huffmaster the salutatorian.

Our first year in senior high school was under the direction of Mrs. Fuller. We now joined with the others to complain about the seventh graders stampeding the halls. We had become very dignified. Now we walked around the hall monitors instead of running over them. Haze Lee won first place in the District and Area Oratorical contests and third place in the state meeting. Four new members joined our class this year—Evelyn Bambin, Bobbie Kate Sawyer, Frances Wyatt and Simon Moye.

We were much excited when we began our junior year with the choosing of our class rings and the junior senior banquet before us. Bobby Armbrage was elected most studious boy in the Who's Who contest and Haze Lee was chosen as one of the CAVALIER beauties. Miss Stroud was our sponsor and with the aid of nine new members Maiva Lou Fair, Treddie Sammers, Gloria Jean Michele, Oma Lee Ringey, Ocie Holliman, and Olen Mullens we made it through the year.

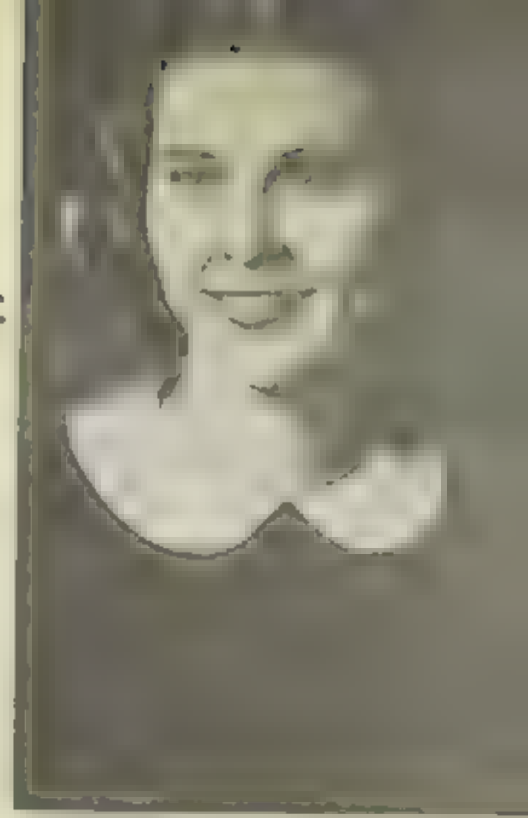

At last we became seniors. We had worked eleven years for this and we certainly made the most of it. All of the student body officers were from our class and also the band drum major. Miss DeWinger sponsored us and to our class we added Anna Mae Adams, Eloise Beck, Inez Brewster, Betty Saxon, Corlene Williams, J. R. Eversole, Eugene Glenn, Jimmy Musick, Bobby Miller, Simon Moye, Major Picken, Bill Watson, Dale Wilkerson and Dean Wilkerson. The senior play, Junior Man, was a complete success and we eagerly looked forward to other big events such as the junior senior banquet, senior day, the senior prom, dedication of the annual and of course the baccalaureate service and commencement.

Now that we have completed this important part of our lives we will go into the many different walks of life but we will never forget the years we spent in this school and the fun we have had here.

JUNIORS

Junior class produced twelve choir members, seven band participants and five football and three basketball stars.

Five members of this group are on the LION staff; four are in the National Honor Society. Quill and Scroll claims four also. They are well represented in Thespians, Lionettes, Dramatics and Commercial Clubs.

Lieutenant drum major of the band is a junior.

For the first time, the juniors attempted a dramatic production. They gave "The Black Ghost" as their class play.

One of the most outstanding accomplishments was the traditional junior-senior banquet.

FOOTBALL FLASHBACK

Ending the season with 7 wins and 4 losses, the Lions of '46 left a long to be remembered spirit with the fellow students and civic backers.

The Lions capitalized on teamwork and fair play to establish their record. In their 11 tilts the Lions rolled up 195 points.

In the season opener the Lions rolled in the way around to hand the favored Arkansas Deaf School a 20-0 defeat.

A much bigger and faster Stuttgart Record eleven gave the Lions their first taste of defeat to the tune of 19-6.

To come back in the win came the Lions next took on the Cotton Plant Scrappers and each Lion dressed out helped give them a 39-6 shellacking.

In a disappointing hard fought game Searcy aggregation let out to Newport 7-6. But in the heart of every Lion there will always be a doubt as to the actual outcome of the game.

A big country team from Imboden furnished the next opposition. The hard hitting Imboden line held the Lions to 12 points but the Searcy line held the opposition scoreless.

As expected the Lions lost to the district Champions Batesville but the big score of 38-7 was not anticipated.

Pushing across three fast touchdowns in the first quarter and with the line holding fast for the remainder of the game the Lions came out with a 19-0 win over Walnut Ridge.

A bad first half let the Marked Tree Indians run up another big score 32-4, before the Lions could recover in the second half.

In a drizzling rain after homecoming ceremonies the Lions went out to combat the Harrisburg Hornets 32-6.

A fast charging Pocahontas Indians team held the local eleven to a 14-6 win.

Enjoying warm weather and a cracking offense and defense eleven senior squad members handed the Lions a 36-6 defeat in the season's final game. Think saving after

And thus ended the 1946 football season with 14 lettermen and three seniors relieving reserve letter and a squad of substitutes who amply played their part in making the record what it is.

F. H. A.

Sixty-one students belong to the F. H. A. after two initiations during the year.

Obtaining money enough for a refrigerator by working at the annual county fair was the first project they have completed. Searcy District Federation meetings with Searcy chapter at hotel were held twice during the year in the high school.

F. F. A.

Meetings of the F. F. A. are held every other Tuesday night. Twenty-five new members were initiated this year. Activities other than the annual banquet were the Federation meeting in Searcy and a week spent at Camp Searcy in Hot Springs.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

This club has as its purpose the encouraging of young people in special secretarial work. Trips to large business firms were planned and committees appointed to visit cities and to make reports on observations of positions open to typists.

LATIN CLUB

Latin Club was organized this year in SHS for students studying Latin and those who have been Latin students.

This new organization has thirty-seven members.

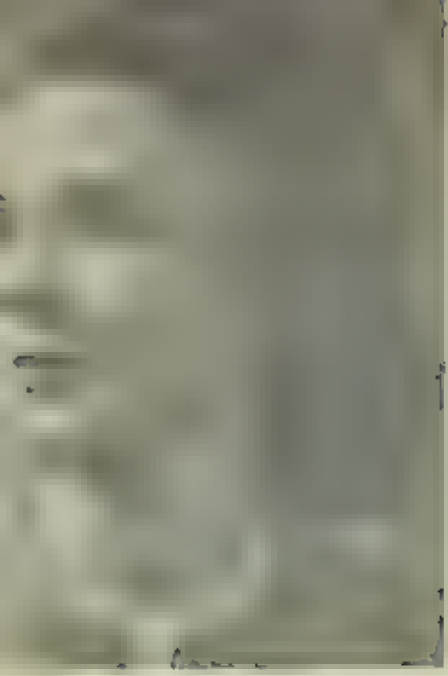

Meetings are held bi-monthly. Programs include singing, skits and reading in Latin.

DRAMATICS CLUB

This is the first year for the Dramatics Club at SHS. The organization is for anyone interested in dramatics.

The club presented two one-act plays—"The Unicorn and the Fish" and "The Ring and the Lock."

A regular meeting is held every Thursday night. Programs consist of choral reading, pantomimes and one-act plays.
